The strength of the Golden Bears this season, and the rout of the Stanford Indians, in prospect, should bring out a record group of alumni. The program will consist of a movie of the California-Navy game, a discussion of plans for the reception to be accorded President Robert Sproul of U. C. when he visits this area January 13th, singing of California songs, and a roll call by classes.

RESPONSE TO FUND DRIVE SLOW SAYS FOREMAN

NEVADA CITY: Progress on the Nevada City Appeal Campaign is getting off to a slow start, according to H. S. Foreman, district chairman.

A full corps of workers has been formed and people are urged to contact these men if they have not been called upon. Foreman indicated that this would help conserve the time of the workers and speed up the drive. He stated that those who could not get in touch with any of the following men could leave their contributions with him at the Nevada City Furniture & Appliance store, 246 Commercial street.

Appeal workers are: John Sbaffi, Ed Frantz, Al Bates, Joe Phelps, Byron Brock, Don Whitlock, Ray Spickelmier, Fred Garrison, William Home, and Robert Hanley at Gold Flat.

Foreman stated that unless the $1900 share of the Tahoe Area Council, Boy Scouts of America budget is raised the council will not be able to continue the expanded field service program put into operation this year.

VOTERS DECIDE NEXT TUESDAY ON SCHOOL UNIFICATION LAW

NEVADA CITY: Voters of Nevada county will, on Tuesday, November 18, decide the issue as to whether or not the unification of school districts will be effected in the county.

The Nevada county local survey committee, commission of school districts, has recommended that a single unified school district be formed, consisting of the following elementary school districts: Birchville, Blue Tent, Cherokee, Chicago Park, Clear Creek, Forest Springs, French Corral, Grass Valley, Indian Springs, Kentucky Flat, Lime Kiln, Nevada City Unified, North Bloomfield, North San Juan, Oakland, Pleasant Valley, Rough and Ready and Wolf.

Polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

The local survey committee was composed of: Dr. Bernard W. Hummelt, Nevada City high school board; Walter Carlson, county superintendent of schools; Lloyd Geist, principal of the Nevada City Grammar School; Gilbert Tennis, Superintendent of the Grass Valley Schools, Mr. Thompson of Indian Springs, and Mr. White of Truckee.

Open hearings, as required by law, have been held in all elementary school districts.

Should unification be decided upon, one school board of five members would be the policy forming body for the entire county, and would hire one superintendent in charge of the entire school district.

Avowed purpose of unification is to provide children with better and more equalized educational opportunities, and more efficient and economical use of public funds.

Opponents of the measure argue that it would remove meeting centers from scattered and sparsely populated communities, thus depriving them of identity.

According to Dr. Hummelt, the proposition is so set up as to prevent passing of the unification measure, if a majority of the outlying rural school districts are opposed to it.

(Ed. Note: See Friday's NUGGET for editorial comment and outline of arguments pro and con.)

P.T.A. HAS MUSICAL, HEARS TALK ON SCHOOL UNIFICATION

By Mrs. Stanley Hornberger

NEVADA CITY: A music demonstration was presented under the direction of William Tobiassen, music teacher, at a general meeting of the Nevada City Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association which met in the school auditorium Friday afternoon. Pupils of Mrs. Smollet's and Mrs. DeMatei's fourth grades sang a group of lively action songs and rounds, following which Tobiassen presented a song which the group had never heard to show the mothers the actual procedure in teaching it.

A group of songs were also sung by little Gay Carter, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Carter.

The guest speaker, S. S. Mayo, regional survey director of redistricting of region 3, was introduced by Walter Carlson, Nevada county superintendent of schools. Mayo pointed out that the purpose of redistricting in this county is to give equal educational opportunities to all Nevada county children.

Mrs. D. H. Walkington, treasurer, announced that the P.T.A. sponsored Halloween carnival, which was held last Friday night, cleared a profit of $328.61 for the association. Total receipts were $616.41 with the expenses being $287.80.

Mrs. Stanley Hornberger, the president of the association, who presided over the business meeting and also announced the program in the absence of Mrs. Geo. Becraft, program chairman, expressed appreciation and thanks from the association to the chairmen, officers, room-mothers, teachers, merchants, and all of the mothers and fathers and people of the city who contributed in any way to help make the Halloween carnival successful.

A membership of 384 to date was announced by Mrs. Gordon Vance, membership chairman, who stated the membership cards and yearly programs will be mailed to members during the next few days. Winners of the membership contest, who will be given parties, are Mrs. DeMatei's fourth and Miss Hogan's fifth. Mrs. Hornberger expressed appreciation to Mrs. Helen Berger for her help in mimeographing the yearling program booklets.

Two new room-mothers who were introduced were Mrs. Ted Ness for Miss Hogan's fifth grade room, and Mrs. Bernie Hart for Mrs. Flindt's and Mr. Bonner's eighth grade.

Mrs. Walkington presented the yearly budget, which included $150 to be used for school improvements. The president named the following school project committee: Mrs. Warren Barnes, chairman; Mrs. Bert Steele and Mrs. Kent Walker.

The association will have 'sewing bees' during November to mend and get in condition clothing that has been turned in during the past month's clothing drive for needy children. Volunteers were asked to help mend.

GRASS VALLEY: Mrs. Ellen H. Stinson reports that a definite date has been set for the concert by Igor Gorin whose engagement with the Twin Cities Concert Association was cancelled because of illness. The date: Friday, December 19th.

REAL ESTATE BOARD MEETS

GRASS VALLEY: The Nevada County Real Estate Board will meet on November 17 for dinner at the Bret Harte Inn. Guests will be high officials of the State Real Estate Board.

Rental problems and the housing shortage are to be primary topics of discussion, according to Mrs. Elsie J. Presley, president of the board.

Disabled Vets Name Harry Morton, Head

GRASS VALLEY: The recently organized Grass Valley Chapter No. 122, of Disabled American War Veterans has elected Harry Morton commander.

Other officers chosen are Wendell Hartley, senior vice commander; Mervyn Chenowith, junior vice commander; Edwin Rourk, chaplain; Lamar Thompson, adjutant; state executive committee, Oren Johnson; and alternate, Matthew De Pauli.

Lester O. French, field director, department of California, presided at the meeting. Clarence Hammond, Robert Gonzaga, Samuel Gillon, Harry Morton and Ronald Pascoe were accepted as new members.

BOYS NABBED AFTER WRECKING JEEP SUNDAY IN MODESTO

NEVADA CITY: Frank Stewart's jeep, missing for a week, which disappeared together with Donald Tryon, 16, and Jackie Salem, 14, was discovered in Williams Body Shop, Modesto Tuesday morning. It was wrecked, according to Tryon Sunday night.

Deputy Sheriff Percy Watters apprehended Tryon at the home of the latter's parents in the Lake Vera area at 3:45 p. m. Monday. The 16-year-old was armed with a Japanese 8-millimeter automatic pistol.

Salem was apprehended Tuesday by the Nevada City police department. Police authorities in Modesto had checked the boys after the Sunday accident, and taken them to the Stanislaus County Hospital for medical treatment. Officers apparently did not connect them with the jeep theft reported here.

Tryon was cut and bruised in the accident and Salem's forehead was cut. Four stitches were necessary to sew up his wound. After the accident, the wayward pair split up and hitch-hiked back to Nevada City.

Their arrest terminated a search by city police, the sheriff's office and the highway patrol. According to reports, the boys had been seen Wednedsay in the town of Washington, where they bought gasoline and candy bars, and were identified by Robert Jenkins, and in the Lake Vera area.

Stewart, who swore out the car theft warrant, and who conducted an independent hunt, reported evidence of the boys' allegedly robbing mail boxes in the Lake Vera area. Burnt letters, he said, were found together with a torn up bank book and other papers belonging to him, which had been in the jeep when it was stolen. Among the papers was a bill of sale for a rifle from a Grass Valley shop. According to Stewart, the plates had been removed from the jeep.

Background of the two-boy crime wave includes, according to Stewart, an earlier theft of the keys, which the minor miscreants had duplicated in a local shop.

On Monday night, November 3, about 11:15, John Adams Boyd, mining man and an East Broad street resident, was wakened by the barking of his giant Great Dane, Major. Boyd let the dog out, and he immediately set out after Salem and Tryon, who were at that moment engaged in quietly rolling away Stewart's jeep.

As one of the culprits, visible because of his white T-shirt, dashed up Broad street, terrified, with Major's big front teeth snapping at him, the other disappeared down the street.

Boyd sought without success to awaken inhabitants of the apartment in which Frank Stewart resides. Lacking authority to remove the (duplicated) keys from the ignition, Boyd notified the police department of the highly suspicious circumstances, and retired.

Police reportedly checked the car early Tuesday morning, evidently leaving the keys in the ignition untouched. Later still, the pair returned and made off with the car.

He is reportedly a hookey-playing grammar school student, while, as far as is known, Tryon is not a school boy.

Stewart, a post office employee, uses the jeep for the delivery of packages. It was stolen once before, in Richmond.

According to Stewart, the jeep had been observed standing, for one night, in the garage of the Diamond Arrow Ranch, on the Bloomfield Road.

PSYCHIATRISTS CHECK 'KISS OF DEATH' PAIR

NEVADA CITY: Dr. Joseph Catton, psychiatrist of San Francisco; R. B. Toller, superintendent of Stockton State Hospital, and Walter Rappaport, superintendent of the Mendocino State Home, will examine Joseph L. Hardy, Jr., and his wife, Lois Hunt Hardy, tomorrow, November 12th, now in the county jail charged with the "kiss of death" murder of James W. McLain on July 30th near highway 40 in the eastern part of the county.

Frank G. Finnegan, who is defending Hardy, states that testimony of the three experts is expected to be an important feature of the trial of the two prisoners, who have pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity.

CENTENNIALS

California's Centennials in 1948 and 1949 may be the means of establishing a new record for conventions in the northern part of the State, according to Walter Swanson. Co-Chairman of the Centennials Celebrations Convention Committee of the State Chamber.

The greatest demand for convention dates and accommodations ever experienced in California is being made for 1948 and 1949. These demands are coming from all over the country and are even greater than during 1939 and 1940 when the Golden Gate International Exposition was the country's leading attraction. The concensus is that the lure of Gold Discovery and the Gold Rush Celebrations are the main reason. While California has been slow in getting under way with the centennials, the news of the commemorations have spread to all parts of the country and have captured the imagination of convention-minded people. A great change has come about in the convention business. Unlike other years when a convention for California was secured at considerable time, effort and a trip east, today those in charge of arrangements are telephoning or traveling long distances to California to complete such arrangements. At the present time it is hard to find convention dates for these two years that do not overlap, with the reception of the months of January 1948 and December 1947. The Oakland and Sacramento Chamber and Convention Bureaus report a situation in their cities paralleling that of San Francisco.

From all appearances the investment in the centennials should be a paying one.

October 29, 1947.

Miss Jane Lambert Weds Paul Wolford in Reno

GRASS VALLEY: Miss Jane Lambert and Paul Wolford were married last Saturday afternoon in Reno. A reception was held in this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cummins on their return to this city.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Walkner, Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Painter and Mr. and Mrs. George Bitts.

The bridegroom is presently employed by a local upholstery concern, and the bride is secretary to Dr. Harold L. Karp.

CHECK WIRING FIRST

"Motorists have spent considerable money in buying new bulbs and putting them into sockets before checking for the trouble," points out L. G. Evans, General Service Manager for National Automobile Club. "It always means more bulbs. When one burns up brightly and then burns out, the source of the trouble most likely is a loose connection. Starting with the battery terminals, a check of the various connections will quickly disclose which is responsible.

JERRY COLONNA VISITS AUBURN

AUBURN: The motion picture comedian and radio performer, Jerry Colonna, paid a visit to Auburn recently at the invitation of the Donner Trail Association.

While here Colonna had the opportunity to learn the science of gold panning and to pay a visit to Placer College, where he was initiated into the Royal Society of Diatomacieurs.

The society is composed of college students who have completed the arduous task of walking out of the Grand Canyon, during the school's annual geology trip.

In making Colonna an honorary member, the rules were relaxed slightly and he was permitted to join after walking up the bank of the American River.

Colonna was accompanied by Tom Dannomm, a publicity man who is a correspondent for the London Times.

In the party which accompanied them to the American River were twelve Placer College students, Ray Dorer and Bill Wakefield of the Auburn '49 Association, Don Steele and Jess Hession, Jr., of the Donner Trail Association, and others.

Several pictures were taken of Colonna learning to pan gold, which will be submitted to Life Magazine.

A scroll granting Colonna membership in the Royal Society of Diatomacieurs will be mailed to him in Hollywood, signed by the local officers.

HAZARD REMOVED

In turning around on a rural road there is one preventive step against getting stuck. That involves seeing that, if one pair of wheels must get off the pavement, the front two are selected. They have nothing to do with driving the car, and if they should get stuck, the rear wheels usually can pull them out.

Each day, November 9th to 15th, there will be appropriate programs. Sunday, the theme will be securing the Peace; Monday, Meeting the Emergency; Tuesday, Building America's Future; Wednesday, Strengthening the Teaching Profession; Thursday, Supporting Adequate Education; Friday, Enriching Home and Community Life; and Saturday, Promoting Health and Safety.

COVEY APPEALS FOR CENTENNIAL ACTION

GRASS VALLEY: Earl Covey, member of the state centennial the Chamber to immediately make plans for celebrating the centennial years here.

Covey is a centennial committee member of the Nevada County Historical Society and of the Native Sons of the Golden West as well as a member of the governor's advisory commission. He has suggested that the chamber aid the historical society in finding a suitable site or building for a museum such as Nevada City now has. He also asked that the chamber take some action with respect to restoring the Chinese Joss House, which for many years was one of the city's most picturesque, historical items.

The chamber made Covey a liason man to work with the various groups with which he is affiliated and with the city council in rstoring te joss house.

Sex differences in strength and physical ability appear to stem from biological causes rather than social attiudes, says a University of California professor of psychology.

WE HOPE IT NEVER HAPPENS TO YOU, BUT ...

. . . sometime, some careless driver may bump into your car and bend a fender, dent the body, break a glass, smash the grill, or do some other damage. We hope it doesn't happen, but if it should be can make your car look like new again . . . and at a reasonable price.

OUR SEWAGE EXPERTS

By Ed. C. Uren

A single cry of "fire", even where there is no smoke, can stampede a whole audience. In somewhat the same manner a whole neighborhood may become aroused over wild and unproven statements if they believe their health is endangered.

Instead of a proposed sewage treatment plant, which the city is required to build and maintain, one would think from the furor it is causing that the City Council was going to install an atomic bomb plant. The danger of ex-bomb plant.

For the sake of the record let it be known that the City Council went carefully into the matter of sewage disposal before any move was made toward installing a plant.

They visited a number of operating plants and through a prominent mining man at Sutter Creek were told of the most ideal plant he had ever seen, which was at a place called Wickensburg in Arizona. A plant which,he said, was right in the town with neat fences and a lawn as wellkept as any private home.

So, we wrote to the City Council of Wickensburg and received a reply in which they stated that their disposal plant had received much favorable comment and was well engineered. They gave us the name of Headman, Coerollo and Ferguson of Phonix as the engineering firm who had constructed it.

The Wickenburg plant is within half a block of the high school and within 200 feet of the nearest residence, yet in the past twelve years that the plant has been in operation there has been no complaint about odor.

The California State Board of Public Health gives this firm of engineers a high rating and under their jurisdiction the firm are, at present employed by the City of Riverside in the installation of a $550,000 sewage disposal plant.

Mr. Crampton claims, I believe that there are grave errors in this firm's plans for our plant in Nevada City, alleging that the engineers haven't paid proper attention to the B. O. D., a symbol which is used to confuse the layman and sounds something like a halitosis ad but means simply the amount of oxygen necessary to stablize the decomposable organic matter in the sewage.

And right here we might say that the amount of organic matter in sewage varies widely in different localities. In Nevada City the amount in proportion to liquids is very small because the City uses an abnormal amount of water per capita.

These facts are well known by Mr. Corollo, who has been here on the job on two different occasions and the sewage flow has been checked night and day under his direction, so let us presume that these engineers knew what they were doing when they designed our plant.

Of course one would hardly expect a disposal plant to smell like a lavender bed any more than he would expect to find the caretaker wearing a gas mask. If the plant as designed is properly cared for we are willing to gamble that no perceptible odor will be noticed within a distance of 200 feet of the plant.

Sewage contains within itself the mean of its own purification. The proof of this is the septic tank where anacrobic bactera under warmth and darkness carries off most all of the sewage in the gaseous stage.

Over in Truckee in 1907 a sewer system was laid to a septic tank 10x20x10 feet. The entire town north of the railroad converges into it. It has been in use forty years and we understand is still in use. It isn't far from the railroad roundhouse and there have been no explosions nor has the roundhouse gang been conscious that they were so close to a so-called health menace.

The people of this city may rest assured that they have in the Phoenix firm the best talent in sanitary engineering in the west to construct their plant. Let's quit insulting their intelligence by such poppycock as insinuating that they don't know their business. They do.

LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION

Third Annual Grand National Livestock Exposition is being held in San Francisco's Cow Palace November 11-9. Sponsored by 1-A District Agriculture Association, this is an event of national import.

Careful Driving In Wet Weather Urged

Hold down your speed in winter driving. Take it Easy during the coming winter months when the traffic accidents reach a peak. These notes of caution are sounded by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association as a reminder to motorists to be careful during the rainy season when wet pavement and low visibility combine to increase hazards.

To prevent dangerous skidding, sped should be held down to a point where the car can be stopped without sudden and hard application of the brakes.

Start slowly, accelerate slowly and stop slowly.

If a skid starts, turn the wheel in the direction of the skid and apply the brakes gently and intermittently. Intermittent braking prevents the locking of wheels, which would increase the skid.

Turn corners slowly and avoid quick turns of the steering wheel.

Give arm signals correctly and in ample time to warn other motorists. Remember that if you are handicapped by low visibility, other drivers are equally handicapped and may not see your signal unless it is given soon enough.

NEWS RELEASE

Guerdon Ellis, Forest Supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest has declared that effective November 5th, spcial fire restrictions imposed by Federal regulation, earlier in the year, are rescinded as they apply to ahoe National Forest lands.

Supervisor Ellis, quotes the Regional Forester, vested with authority by the Secretary of Agriculture, in rescinding Regulations T-1, (E) and (H):

1. Camp fire permits are not now required before building camp fires.
2. Smoking is no longer restricted to specific areas.

Special emphasis should be given to continued need for burning permits to dispose of debris and slash as required by State Law. State and Federal Agencies will require debris burning permits until December 1st.

THE Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

JANUARY 26, 1852.—I'm disappointed and wish t Hetty had not changed her mind, for I do not have liking for her that I did when I started for Cali-nia. Marie is in my mind all day, I dream of her hts and I never can go back to my boyish love. I e not shown Pard the letter yet, and don't think I ll. Somehow I am getting so that I do not like to e him ridicule me. In a great many ways I am a ferent man than I was when I left the states. I ought I was a pretty smart fellow around the old ighborhood, and was chock full of conceit. Now I n look back and see what a greenhorn I was in many spects. I had a fair schooling, for beside the district hool house I went three terms to the academy. After at I worked on the farm steadily until I started for alifornia. The farthest I was ever away from home to that time was to Litchfield, the county seat, six-en miles. I never read anything but the New York ribune and the Litchfield Inquirer, two papers that ad subscribed for. Mother was dead set against nov-s and the only books we had in the house were "Pil-rim's Progress," "Fox's Book of Martyrs," "Pollock's ourse of Time," "Young's Night Thoughts," "Cal-in's Institutes of the Christian Religion," "Jonathan dwards' Sermons," and the Bible, of course. That as pretty dry stuff and I did not take to it. I knew ess about the world than I did about Heaven, for, rom what I could hear, I had an idea that New York was the biggest city on earth. I knew better, but that was my narrow way of thinking. Pard drew a dia-gram, which he said expressed my mental geographical deas, and I guess he was right.

I suppose we are contented because there is no-body to boss us—"Not even a woman," puts in Pard—have money enough so that we need not live this way if we don't want to, no scandal, no gossip, and nobody to criticise us as long as we keep off of other people's corns, a jolly good lot of neighbors who live as we do, and our friendship, which is the thing that counts more than all the rest. Naturally, I don't want to live this way forever and we have our plans for the future, but in the meantime and until things ripen, we are satisfied with the old cabin.

The snow is so deep that it is difficult to cut timber and we did little work during the week. The rich streak held on for about four feet, and from that and the rest of the gravel we made seventeen and one-half ounces. It has rained or snowed steadily for almost two weeks. We bought a couple of pairs of rubber boots and two tarpaulin coats to tramp between the cabin and the claim. Luckily, we had laid in enough grub to last a month; there is plenty of hay for the horses and the jackass, and they are as fat as butter, so none of us are suffering any hardships.

Ballet Russe Comes To Sacramento Nov. 18

SACRAMENTO: With the world's greatest ballerina, Alexandra Danilova, heading the company, the famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, will return to the Memorial auditorium, Sacramento, this season, for a concert on Tuesday evening, November 18.

Danilova, on this tour, combines forces with such well-known ballet luminaries as Frederic Franklin, Ruthanna Boris, and Leon Danielian, to top a company of 150 artists.

Three ballets are programmed for the Sacramento performance. They will be Stravinsky's "Danses Concertantes," the American dance-melodrama, "Frankie and Johnny," and Strauss' "Blue Danube."

The first ballet was written by Stravinsky in 1942, and the choreography was done by George Balancine, with costumes and scenery by Eugene Berman. This ballet without a story is in traditional form in four variations, with the two stars, Danilova and Frederic Franklin, in the pas de deux.

"Frankie and Johnny" is taken from the old song of the same name, and tells the story of Frankie's love for Johnny, who in turn loved Nellie Bly and was promptly shot by his first sweetheart.

The ballet, one of the most talked-of in the Ballet Russe's repertoire, features such dances as the Sidewalk Stomp, Beer Parlor Rag, Bartender's Rag, Frankie's Tune, and The Funeral Party One-Step. Ruthanna Boris and Leon Danielian take the title roles.

Tickets for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo are available now at the Ware-Hazelton box office at Weinstock-Lubin's, Sacramento.

MELBERG HEADS CO. WELFARE DEPARTMENT

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Board of Supervisors have appointed Kief D. Melberg of Yuba City to be welfare director of Nevada County.

Melberg, a married man with two children, expects to assume his new duties on December 1st. In the meantime, Marjorie Anderson, who has been acting director, will carry on.

The board appointed Ralph H. Deeble, county clerk and Vernon Stoll, district attorney, upon the Nevada County Planning Commission, to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of R. N. McCormack, late county clerk, and H. Ward Sheldon, late district attorney.

John Fortier is chairman of the commission. Other members are Walter M. Barrett of Truckee, and Joseph O'Connor, county surveyer.

TAHOE COUNCIL

Plans for the Tahoe Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, Annual Rally are being made by the Scout troops of the Council at weekly troop meetings, according to M. E. Witting, Rally Chairman.

A major feature of the Rally, which will be held Saturday, December 6, in Roseville, will be Scoutcraft dmonstrations by the different troops of the council. Pioneering, bridge building, camping techniques, and first aid are a few of the subjects which will be presented.

Competitive participation in the always colorful fire-by-friction, signalling, rope climbing, bugling, and model airplane contests will comprise the rest of the Rally program.

Serving on the committee with Witting are: Howard Lee and Ray Wellington of Auburn, C. W. Lauppe and Richard R. Soneder of Roseville, and Marshall Porter of Colfax. Scoutmasters reppresentatives are Fred Knudsen of Auburn, Philip H. Leak of Roseville.

KEEP WINDSHIELDS CLEAN

Keep windshield clean and your windshield wiper in good condition, advises the Public Safety Department. These two simple practices will greatly decrease the hazards of driving in the rain.

KNOW YOUR GUN

Washington, D. C. — Man's peculiarities pop up in the darndest places and he seems to reserve a hunting trip into the fields and woods for some of his silliest traits.

The same man who would scream to the Heavens at the mere thought of flying with an inexperienced pilot will hunt with a companion who is positively ignorant of the hunting sport. He will endanger his own life and the lives of others without a second thought. He wouldn't drive with an inexperienced driver but he will meander in the woods with somone whose only knowledge of guns is where the trigger is located; who knows nothing of the characteristics of ammunition; and who is a menace to everyone out for a day of sport.

Each fall these neophytes cause hundreds of accidents. The National Rifle Association, in surveys conducted during past years, has proven that the vast majority of mishaps in the field are caused by ignorance of the equipment involved and of the habits of the quarry he is following.

One "zany" in Maine last fall was sure a black bear he was following had sought refuge in an old hollow tree. He not only built a fire in the tree but threw in a couple of .30-30 cartridges to shoot the critter out. While he was congratulating himself over his strategy one of the slugs tore thru his right shoulder.

His case was listed as another hunting accident. But if he had known anything about guns, ammunition, or the sport he was participating in, the "accident" would never have happened.

If you intend to go hunting this season, make sure you know your gun and ammunition. Keep your guns clean. Make sure you are using the right cartridge in the right gun. Read the directions on the ammunition box and abide by the warnings. Don't tinker. The manufacturer knew how to build that gun and make it safe for everybody. An amateur can't improve on it. Don't take a chance with a foreign weapon. Have it thoroughly examined by a competent gunsmith before firing it.
